1-year Monthly Average Indexed Account with Annual Reset linked to the DJIA

- › One moving part.
- › Issued with either a cap or spread fee that will remain in place for the life of the contract. Actual cap or spread fee % is guaranteed for one year.
- › Cap/Spread fee may change at contract anniversary; however, cap will never be less than 5% and spread fee will never be greater than 9%.
- › Interest is calculated by comparing the value of the index on the first day of each contract year with the monthly average of the index value for that year. The ratio between the two determines the rate of growth used in a formula (that includes a cap or spread fee) to calculate the interest rate that will be credited on the last day of the contract year. Even in a down market, the interest rate will never be less than zero.

1-year Quarterly Additive Point-to-Point Indexed Account with Annual Reset linked to the DJIA

- › One moving part.
- › Issued with a quarterly cap.
- › Cap is determined at contract issue and guaranteed for 1 year.
- › Cap may change at contract anniversary; however, it will never be less than 1%.
- › Interest is calculated by comparing the index value at the start of the quarter to the index value at the end of the quarter. This value is then compared to a quarterly cap rate and the resulting value becomes the quarterly index interest rate. The quarterly index interest rate for all four quarters are added together to determine the interest rate that will be credited on the last day of the contract year. Even in a down market, the interest rate will never be less than zero.

1-year Monthly Additive Point-to-Point Indexed Account with Annual Reset linked to the S&P 500

- › One moving part.
- › Issued with either a monthly cap or participation rate that will remain in place for the life of the contract. Actual cap or participation rate is guaranteed for one year.
- › Cap/Participation rate may change at contract anniversary; however, cap will never be less than 0.5% and participation rate will never be less than 25%.
- › Interest is calculated by comparing the index value at the start of the month to the index value at the end of the month. This value is then compared to the monthly cap rate, if applicable, and the resulting value becomes the monthly index interest rate. The monthly index rate for all 12 months are added together and multiplied by the participation rate, if applicable, to determine the interest rate that will be credited on the last day of the contract year. Even in a down market, the interest rate will never be less than zero.

Annual Point-to-Point Indexed Account with Annual Reset linked to the S&P 500

- › One moving part.
- › Issued with either an annual cap or participation rate that will remain in place for the life of the contract. Actual cap or participation rate is guaranteed for one year.
- › Cap/Participation rate may change at contract anniversary; however, cap will never be less than 2% and participation rate will never be less than 25%.
- › Interest is calculated by comparing the index value at the start of the contract year to the index value at the end of the contract year. This value is then compared to the annual cap rate or multiplied by the participation rate, and the resulting value becomes the interest rate credited to the indexed account. Even in a down market, your interest rate will never be less than zero.
